

Blind Youngster Overcomes Handicap

GEORGETTE HALL

In a world of silence about him is the noise of a busy, hurrying life. It is even a bigger challenge to a teenager who must face when he is handicapped and the inability to hear because he is deaf. So our young people today are faced with all the riches of the world, yet they live their lives in silence.

Glenn, the young man who overcame his handicap, is shown in the photo above.

Glenn is anxious, even impatient for school to begin in the fall. He hopes to continue his excellent record in his senior year and is already looking forward to attending college. If his plans work out, he hopes to get an opportunity to attend the Institute for the Deaf in Washington, D. C. Here he could study to become a teacher and a whole, wide, new and fascinating life in the fields of education and science would be open to him. A teaching position would pay him well and he could take his place in the world.

Glenn's school record, his great desire to teach those who are handicapped such as he is makes an inspiring story. Everyone who knows him or has heard of him wishes him success. Surely when we read of his many and varied accomplishments, it seems very clear that this young man is not really handicapped at all. Even though his world is a silent one, the praise he has received has made his world a happy and worth while place.

Darwood-on-the-Jourdain was the scene of a gathering of camillia enthusiasts from the Bay area as well as from Slidell and Covington, La.

A tour of the gardens began at five o'clock followed by a brief business meeting at which plans were formulated for the annual camillia show to be held in January in Slidell, La.

Many ideas were swapped among the members concerning hybridization and experimentation with new specimens and it was voted to try to interest more people in the growing of camillias for which the South has become famous.

The table for supper was graced with a colorful centerpiece of fruits and vegetables and assisted with Mrs. E. P. Robert, wife of the president of the society. BRIDGE-TENDER'S QUARTERS ON RR BRIDGE DAMAGED

A blaze which damaged the bridge-tender's quarters and several feet of trestle on the L&N bridge, and freight car derailment which took place almost simultaneously, were believed by officials of the company from Mobile to be unrelated, after a thorough investigation took place.

The nature of the fire was undetermined, although it was believed that it may have been caused by flying sparks from a hot-box.

Freight car No. 74 left the tracks at the Pass Christian approach after having crossed the bridge en route Eastward.

Efforts of the Bay St. Louis Fire Department proved futile when the distance prevented reaching the flames. Fishermen, noticing the blaze had summoned aid.

All service was suspended on Monday while crews worked diligently to restore order, and hundreds of commuters were forced to use other means of transportation. Service was facilitated in time Monday evening to restore transportation via the line.

TRAGEDY AVERTED AS BOAT OVERTURNS NEAR RR BRIDGE

Tragedy was averted late Sunday evening when quick thinking saved the lives of three unidentified boys from Bayou Portage.

The boys, one of whom was unable to swim, were swept overboard near the Railroad Bridge, when a 10 foot boat in which they were cruising overturned.

Two of the boys managed to get to the third to a reasonably safe position at the base of the bridge, whence one of them climbed to the rails and ran to the shore for help.

Ben Hille, Jr. and Woody Santa Cruz were two who volunteered to form a rescue party. Steering hurriedly to the scene in their individual boats, the young men searched the pilings at the bridge until they located the boys.

The overturned boat was retrieved and towed into the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club Harbor.

1955 FORD AUTO STOLEN IN MAY HAS BEEN FOUND

A statement issued by Sheriff Sylvan Lader disclosed that a 1955 Ford car, stolen in Bay St. Louis last May, has been recovered.

A negro, identified as Frederick Russell Wallace, 32, was detained in Newport, Ark., on suspicion of car theft.

Upon investigation Wallace was found to contradict circumstances concerning the identity as well as ownership of the car. Information was forwarded to the FBI in Washington in an attempt to clear the case.

The car is the property of Alvin Gentry, Manager of the Cue Oil Co., in Bay St. Louis.

A check is being made to determine whether Wallace will be extradited to Mississippi to face charges or whether the case will be referred to the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Farmer In Dedaux Community Near Pass Christian Shot By Son

A family argument was the cause of serious injury to a 50-year old farmer when his teen-aged son shot him with a rifle, striking him in the abdomen.

The tragedy took place at a farm house in the Dedaux Community near Pass Christian.

Weston Lader, formally charged with assault and shooting with intent to kill, was detained at the Hancock County Jail in Bay St. Louis after he shot his father, Pomalene Lader, 50 years old.

The fifteen year-old lad was released under $500.00 bond until a hearing can be conducted in Hancock County Youth Court by Judge Nelius Rhodes.

The youth, badly shaken, could give no account of the shooting when questioned by Sylvan Lader and Deputy Sheriff Latham Garriga.

The victim was rushed to the Gulfport Memorial Hospital for examination and was found to be suffering from a gaping wound in the abdomen. Because of a serious loss of blood before aid could be summoned, the elder Lader was considered in poor condition.

The first to arrive on the scene, Constable Saucier found members of the family attempting to arrest the flow of blood from the victims wound.

It was said by members of the Lader family that no trouble existed between the boy and his father prior to the argument.

LOCAL ROYALTY AND LAND OWNERS TO REALIZE INCOMES

Three wells in Ansley, Hancock County, are now producing daily approximately seven million cubic feet of gas per day, in addition to 400 barrels of condensate.

For more than a year the well was shut off pending the installation of a pipeline. It is now comparable to other productive fields of oil and gas and local royalty and land owners will begin to realize an income from production.

Visiting KC's Describe "Audrey" Aftermath

AS I SAW IT IN CAMERON, LOUISIANA HURRICANE AREA

By B. D. "FIP" JOHNSON

Representing Pere Le Duc Council to make delivery to the Cameron Area approximately one and one-half tons of clothing and cash donations from the Council, Society of the Immaculate Conception and donations from the Lakeshore Area solicited by Brother Victor Green, I left Bay St. Louis on Monday morning at 4:30 a. m. accompanied by Mr. Carl Thibault.

We went directly to Lake Charles where we received our first Pass to enter the storm area. From this point we travelled to Kreole where we first witnessed some of the awful sights left in the storm's wake. Every where you looked there was nothing but desolation and despair—a mass of wreckage, dead animals. People everywhere were still looking for their loved ones still listed as missing.

The whole area gave a picture similar to that of the farmer who had so much land to plant that he didn't care how or where he planted—just so it got planted—this was the general view throughout the marshes and the areas where once a town existed. Wrecked homes, dead animals, overturned automobiles, boats of all sizes wrecked and piled in heaps. The marshes literally looked like they had been planted with every type of debris that can be conceivably mentioned.

The area can hardly be described as the farther we travelled the worse the conditions seemed. You cannot describe the feelings and the look upon the faces of the families left—they appeared in a daze wondering just what happened. It reminded me of the great hurricane that struck our community in Sulphur, La., so warm thanks to Brother Ed Murtigh, Bro. Warren Buehler, Bro. Victor Green, Bro. T. J. McCaleb, Bro. Lucas Pucheu. Special thanks also to Mr. Geetsy Ruhr who gave so much of his time in collecting the clothing. Thanks to Bro. Lucien Kidd for the wonderful assistance in giving publicity and his help in collecting clothing. Thanks to all of the people of Hancock County who so generously contributed to this worthy cause.

Steals March on Bay St. Louis Teenagers

Linda Lee Normand will probably be the most sought after teenager in Bay St. Louis, with all of her girl friends agog over the march she stole on them when she was taken backstage at the Tommy Sands show in New Orleans, and had a real backstage feast with celebrities.

Linda and her brother Emmett were the guests of Dr. Emmett Lee Irwin at one of the performances of the attractive young singer last week at the auditorium in New Orleans.

After the curtain was rung down, Dr. Irwin told Linda she had been invited to get backstage as the guest of Mr. Sands and other members of the cast. She was escorted by Hayes Herbert, Jr., a dashing young dancer with the show.

She was introduced to, and entertained by Tommy Sands, who added the additional thrill of autographing her white linen bag in red ink Linda you lucky girl.

Another attractive young performer asked to meet the stunning blonde beauty from here. He was Larry Logan a featured player with the troupe. He and dancer Hebert both gave Linda autographs to add to her collection.

Of course, Dr. Irwin and little brother Emmett enjoyed being the escorts of such a sought after young belle. The summer should be quite complete for Linda, not many girls her ages have such fun backstage with one of the nation's most talented and sought after young professionals.

International Paper Co. and Sam Whitfield of Bay St. Louis, Miss. He left Monday morning by bus and will attend a week of study of the many forestry phases at Roosevelt State Park.

'BOY ON A DOLPHIN' SUN. - MON. AT A & G THEATRE

The first U. S. motion picture ever made in Greece—a breathtakingly beautiful Cinemascope romance called "Boy on a Dolphin" opens Sunday and Monday at the A & G Theatre. The talents of marquee-magnets Alan Ladd and Clifton Webb are combined with the allure of the glamorous "new face" from Italy, Sophia Loren, in an enchanting seaside romantic tale. This dynamic three-some takes top billing in Twentieth Century-Fox's Cinemascope and color by De Luxe production by Samuel G. Engel.

In the film which is based on David Divine's best-selling novel, Miss Loren a Greek island girl goes skin-diving in the Aegean Sea, and discovers the fabulous statue of a boy astride a dolphin lost centuries ago in a sunken galleon. Before Ladd can convince her the statue belongs to all the Greeks, art collector Webb flashes a fortune before her eyes.

Producer Engel achieved another "first" by obtaining permission from the Greek Ministry of Education to film important scenes in front of the world-famous Parthenon on the historic Acropolis. He also laced into the plot famed Greek landmarks like Delphi, Corinth, Delos, the Monastery of the of Meteora, and the ancient island off Hydra, where his company worked on location for three months.

"JUST FOR A LIFE" AT HI-WAY THEATRE JULY 21 AND 22

Kirk Douglas in "Just For a Life" in Cinemascope and Metrocolor, co-starring Anthony Quinn, Academy Award winner for best actor, 1956 in "Lust for Life", M-G-M drama depicting the life and career of the world famous painter, Vincent Van Gogh, gives filmgoers a close-up view of some 200 original Van Gogh paintings in full color.

The art treasures are the property of 94 public and private collections in the United States, England, Scotland, France, The Netherlands, Germany, Switzerland, Austria, Italy, Sweden and Brazil.

Through the courtesy of the collectors and museums, the studio was able to photograph the originals for use in "Just For a Life" and through a new photographic technique, still transparencies of the paintings were transferred to Cinemascope film in all the brilliance of their original hues.

Kirk Douglas portrays Van Gogh, with other principals enacted by Anthony Quinn, James Donald and Pamela Brown.

'Man in Space' To Be At The Star Theatre Thurs. - Fri.

The Walt Disney's Technicolor screen featurette, "Man in Space" at the Star Theatre Thursday and Friday, July 18-19, reaches a high point of excitement and drama when it reveals an artificial satellite floating a thousand miles above the earth. The man-made object, carrying scientific instruments and apparatus, is depicted by means of cartoon animation. It faithfully conforms, however to accepted opinions of how such a satellite will some day appear.

The projectile is shown as man's first firm foothold "in outer space. From readings and reports its instruments will register man's final conquest of space can begin.

Also featured in the film is a revolutionary four-stage rocket. Completely built, it would be 179 feet long, weight 1,280 metric tons and carry six men. It would be fired in four stages to reach an altitude of 1,075 miles. "Man in Space" presents a fascinating view of the future, which humans will travel to the moon.

Participates At Generating Plant Ceremony

Governor J. P. Coleman turned a valve at Mississippi Power Company's new fourteen million dollar Gulf Coast Generating Plant, putting the plan in commercial operation, Saturday afternoon. The brief ceremony was attended by a small group of state and local officials and company representatives.

L. P. Sweatt, President of the Mississippi Power Company, said, "This plant is certainly concrete evidence of the faith we have in Mississippi's continuing economic progress. It is the third modern generating plant we have completed since early in 1945 providing a total of more than 300,000 HP of additional generating capacity. This marks the completion of more than 2 years of intensive construction work plus another year or more of preparatory planning and design work. We are extremely proud of the fact that we have always had an ample supply of electricity to take care of all requests, no matter how large. We will continue to build ahead so that this will always be the case."

The new generating plant is located on the Lorraine Road approximately three miles north of Highway 90 and midway between Biloxi and Gulfport. It has a generating capacity of 100,000 horsepower. Natural gas is used as fuel for this plant.

Modern, in every respect, this plant uses steam at a temperature of 1000 degrees with a pressure of 1875 pounds per square inch.

The steam temperature is 100 degrees higher and the pressure twice as great as in the company's other two generating plants.

More than two thousand untreated pine pilings support the main building. These pilings on a thick concrete and steel base slab is laid on below sea level and will be preserved by water.

The building has an overall height of approximately 140 feet and it is constructed of steel and concrete with outside walls of asbestos transite siding.

Boiler water, which must be chemically pure, is obtained from deep wells.

Cooling water for the condensers is obtained from the Biloxi River through an intake canal. This canal is 150 to 200 feet wide and varies in depth from 12 to 16 feet. With the plant operating at maximum capacity over eighty-six million gallons of water must pass through the condensers daily. However, this water is returned to the river through a discharge canal with no loss.

Although natural gas is presently used as fuel, an area has been prepared for use as a coal storage area in the event that the price of coal becomes competitive with natural gas. Coal could be barged from coal fields in Alabama or Kentucky directly to the plant.

Although the plant is now in commercial operation, a considerable amount of construction will be necessary during the next several months in order to complete it. This will include finishing floors and interior walls, insulation, clean-up and painting among other things.

Telephone Company In Mississippi Snaps Back From "Audrey" Damage

J. C. Dabney, manager of Southern Bell in Gulfport said today that the aftermath of the storm damage and high winds caused by hurricane Audrey in Mississippi cost the Telephone Company, in construction and maintenance bills, over $88 thousand. This money has already been spent to restore more than 14,644 telephone affected throughout the state.

In addition more than 460 long distance circuits were affected and more than 83 of the 159 exchanges in Mississippi experienced exchange cable trouble. Many poles had to be replaced and cables and wires reattached in order to restore these services.

The heaviest damage to the state entered Mississippi between Natchez and Vicksburg and travelled northeasterly through Jackson and left the state between Meridian and Columbus.

Moderate damage was inflicted along a 50 mile path on either side of this area.

Telephone company officials announced within that all of the approximately 15,000 telephones affected had been restored to normal conditions.

Many telephone people worked day and night to repair the service.

Most troubles were caused by falling trees and limbs which added to the difficulty of getting to the point of trouble in order to restore service.

The telephone company announced today their satisfaction that the business was back to normal.

Sign Agreements With Miss. Forestry Commission On 16th Land

The Board of Supervisors from nine counties have signed agreements with the Mississippi Forestry Commission for the Commission to supervise and manage timber under control of the Board on sixteen section land, under authority of law passed in 1954 and amended in 1956, it was revealed by State Forester C. B. Marlin.

Counties having signed agreements are Stone, which was the first, George, Greene, Jackson, Perry, Pearl River, Coahoma, Claiborne and Carroll. Counties having approved the agreement but have not as yet signed it are Harrison, Adams, Franklin, Wilkinson and Jefferson.

Under the terms of such agreements, Marlin said the Forestry Commission, in cooperation with the Board of Supervisors, supervises and manages the timber.

marks timber for cutting and fixes "the minimum total cash price per minimum price per unit, one thousand (1,000) feet or other measure, at which marked timber will be sold."

In addition to marking timber or sale," Marlin said, "it is also the Commission to determine what planting and timber improvement work should be done. These and other recommended forestry improvements are made and reported to the appropriate board."

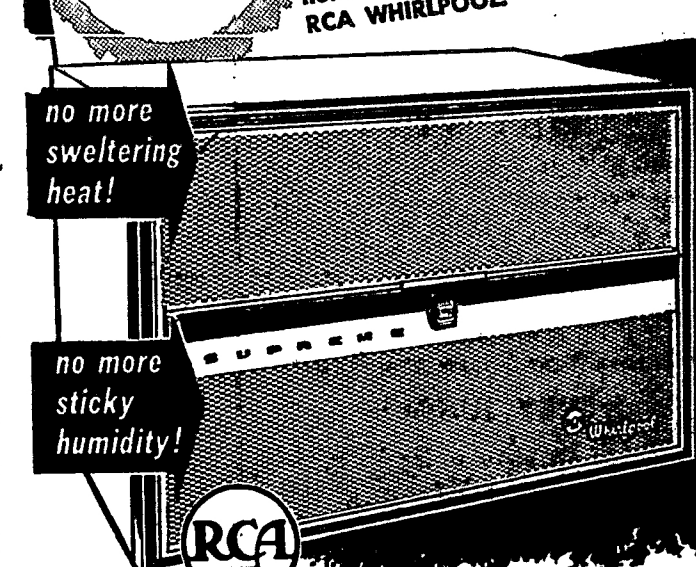

For its services the Mississippi Forestry Commission is entitled to receive its actual expenses incurred in carrying out these duties.

Such expenses are paid from the proceeds of timber or wood sale, upon presentation of itemized expense bills, not to exceed ten percent of the gross receipts from sales in any one year.

Marlin said other counties eligible to enter into agreement with the Forestry Commission on such terms are Forrest, Jones, Marion, Wayne, Amite, Copiah and Lincoln. These counties are eligible because they lie in either the De Soto or Homochitto National Forest area as included in House Bill No. 484. Claiborne, Coahoma and Carroll counties were eligible under other special clauses of the Law.
